STUDENT LIFE

As we look back on our surprisingly brief four years at Newton North, it is hard at first to know what to think. If there is one thing that we can all say we have learned, it is that there is no such thing as a typical high school experience. No movie, book, or television show will ever completely capture everything that each of us remembers about our school. There is a mixture of memories shared with graduates of years past and experiences unique to our class that together create the overall memory that we will take with us.

We join with all Tiger alumni when we think of the building's structural idiosyncrasies, or of trying to watch or play a game in the drainage basin known as the athletic fields. We stand alone however as the last class to play in the Suburban League, or to see the mantle of principle change hands during our freshman year.

Hopefully the pages and photos that follow will help bring together this sense of the familiar and the unique. Our memories of Newton North are bound to be mixed, but with luck we can look back on our time here and say, at the very least, that we learned something about ourselves.

$TUDENT UNION

Upon our arrival to school as seniors, we were surprised to find that a new location had been designated as to where we were to congregate during our free blocks. Main Street was no longer open to students, the new alternative being the Student Union (which many clever seniors recognized as last year's cafeteria.) One side of the cafeteria now contained new "square" tables and chairs, a modern touch to the drab atmosphere. It was now not just a place to eat lunch, but a place to study and socialize as well.

The opening of the Student Union was not a welcome change to the seniors who had gone through the school with the precedent that Main Street and Riley Commons (after the other commons rooms were closed) were the places to go during free blocks, as well as before and after school. What seniors missed was an informal central area of congregation complete with a carpet to sprawl on. But not all hope is lost: plans have been discussed for a new Senior Lounge complete with carpet, sofas and possibly a television...

For the moment, seniors and students of all grades are learning to adjust to the changes the school has implicated this year. Whether these changes are permanent are still unclear — it looks like only time will tell. As for the seniors, we will try to remember ourselves as the class with a new and improved lounge area, and not as the class who was kicked off Main Street.

Feet up and head down — Senior Stephanie Walsh chills in the Student Union.

A slow moment in the Student Union.

ACADEMICS

Newton North High School is a place for many things, and the academics are at the heart of all of the diverse activity that we enjoy. Whether your place was in your house office, the classroom, the pool, the auto body shop, the student union, or anywhere in between, we were all striving for education. We shared Newton North, the building, and the exciting people that fill it; we made it special place and a unique community.

At Newton North we decided to focus on many things. We learned technical skills, encouraged the music within us, we taught swimming lessons, and learned how to type. We learned how to make choices and used these lessons to decide where to head with what we have, and what we can find. We were taught to get ready for the future, and we lived for today. Whatever we bring with us tomorrow, we have a strong foundation and history in Newton North.

The individual departments held secrets that were unfolded for us as we went deeper into a subject we loved or hated. As freshmen we did not know many teachers, but through the years we learned which faculty would be our guides in our academic pursuits. Every person's schedule was distinct and important. When we shared classes with friends or made friends within a class, we were growing and learning from both the teachers, and from each other.

Beyond Main Street is a school filled with people excelling in their individual fields, both faculty and students, and working hard to go one step further. We leave with a sense of accomplishment for the work we have done and the preparation we were given.

TECHNICAL/ VOCATIONAL

The Technical/Vocational department at Newton North High School is a very unique and important part of our school. The program includes many students who learn a variety of skills, and can focus in on one field, thus becoming exceedingly adept for high school students. The Tech/Voc program includes drafting, auto body, auto mechanics, graphic arts and carpentry.

As freshman, students can try out different Tech/Voc fields in an exploratory class, and if interested can continue to study a certain field as a sixteen period a week major. There are also courses offered in two or four period a week electives. This opens the department to many more students who want to know how to do some of the basics but are not interested in that field as a career.

The skills learned in the different departments can help students skip one or two years of college level courses, or they can return to spend a post-graduation year going more in depth.

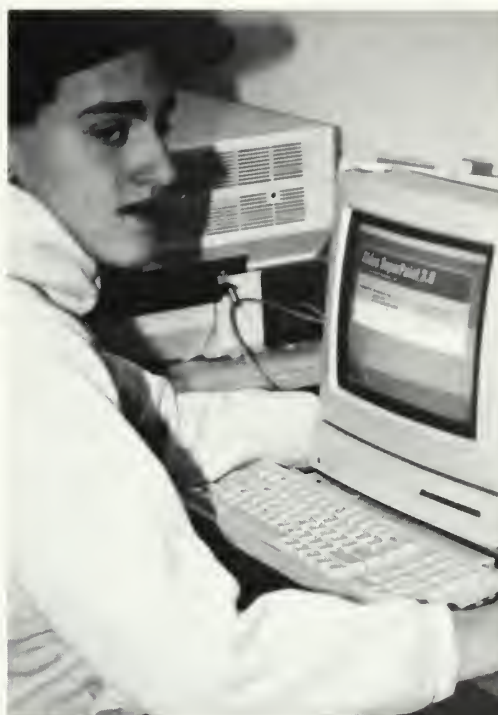

Whether drafting plans for a future home, making silk screened tee-shirts, fixing a car or building a table, the people in the Tech/Voc department are always busy and noisy, and always productive.

SPECIAL COURSES

Newton North High School offers some special programs designed for individuals who need special attention, including classes which do not fall under the general description of academics. These programs are essential to the diversity of Newton North. Areas such as Driver's Education, culinary arts and the Tiger's Loft, child development, New Start, EdCo, and S.P.A.R.C. all factor into the daily running of our school. Almost everyone belongs in one or more of these areas which all are important and enrich our school.

The Driver's Education program is necessary for anyone who wants to drive. Through movies and lectures, students are taught some of the harsh realities they will face on the road.

Culinary arts students learn how to cook, clean and basically run the fully operational restaurant: the Tiger's Loft, located on the fourth floor which feeds faculty and students involved in the program. Child development classes also get to put their skills to use when they work and play with children in the Plowshares day care center on the first floor.

New Start is a program for students who have a tough time with regular classes and need special attention. The students work with teachers in smaller groups and have a special curriculum. EdCo or Education Collaborative is a program for hearing impaired students at Newton North. The program offers a variety of courses and the students are able to receive an excellent education.

S.P.A.R.C. or Senior Program Alternative to Regular Classes is an opportunity for seniors to leave Newton North in their second semester to explore a career interest. The students must spend at least fifteen hours a week in their chosen internship and they can still take one or two classes a week at Newton North.

These special courses help us to see why Newton North has a reputation for excellence with both the faculty and students putting so much time and effort into a diverse and thorough education.

With about fifty different clubs at Newton North High School we are lucky and unique in the opportunities that are offered. Not only do we have an outstanding academic program, but there are activities for students outside the classroom. There are clubs for everyone. Students can join service clubs to help out in the school or within the community. There are also clubs for specific interests, including academic clubs, intramural sports, theatre productions, and student government.

Clubs are the opportunity for students to participate in a school activity both after school and outside of school. Students can learn new things or pursue interests further in a specific area. They add diversity to life at Newton North.

By joining clubs, students can get to know new people, help out the school, and have a great time in the process. They bring people together from different grades and different backgrounds who share similar interests. The different clubs at Newton North are responsible for bringing new attitudes, outlooks and ideas to our school. Students learn how to be in charge, learn new things, and have fun.

HOUSE COUNCILS

Beals House Council organized and ran this year's Battle of the Bands. They also organized an all-council food drive. Billy Lynch was the president, Ani Zerounian was the secretary, Nikki Mann was the treasurer and Avery Miles was the interhouse representative.

Adams House Council was headed this year by presidents Beth Freitas and Jennifer Saris. Lori Rizzo was treasurer and Liza Smith was secretary. The council raised money through bake sales and selling candy. They helped organize this year's production of Ric 'n' Rocco.

Barry House Council helped Adams House Council with this year's production of Ric 'n' Rocco. They also had a raffle for a hurricane relief fund and sold candy for Globe Santa. Miriam Weiner and Kathleen Boyce were co-presidents. Jamie Udler was the secretary, Matt Pappas was the treasurer and Zac Roberts was the interhouse representative.

Riley House Council was headed by Asha Clayton-Neiderman, Forrest St. Clair, Miriam Sakarati and Allison Pitts. The Council organized this year's international night. They also raised money through a raffle.

The Newtonite produced sixteen issues this year and one special issue. They continued a tradition of excellence, winning the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's highest award for a high school newspaper. "We had a very successful year. We put in a lot of effort and had fun at times. We had an excellent staff and we really worked well together," said co-editor-in-chief Dan Allen. The other editor-in-chief was Mike Colton, and Helen Smith was the advisor.

The 1993 Newtonian staff worked during school, after school, and on numerous weekends to produce this beautiful book that you now have before you. For the twenty Newtonian editors, the biggest reward for their efforts will be seeing the finished book. The knowledge that they were responsible for the recording of their class' high school memories is an achievement they will be proud of long after they graduate. "It was a big job, but the editors worked together very well and never let the hard work get them down. You never realize all that Newton North has to offer until you've attempted to record it all in one book," said editor in-chief Joanna Lewis.

Thoughtprints has had a very successful year under the leadership of editor-in-chief Justin Neisuler. They produced a calender and a literary magazine. Production editor Nomi Victor said that many new members have joined this year. Other Editors include: Arts Editor Marcy Brink, Literary Editor Rachel Kuller and Manager Hannah Shay.

SERVICE CLUBS

This year Orange Shield has sent many groups of volunteers to Rosie's Place, a shelter in Boston. They have also set up a shoveling service that sends students to the homes of elderly or handicapped people. In addition, they have helped out at many school events such as college night and parent's night. The director is senior Caitlin Feeney and the associate directors are seniors Joanna Lewis, Peter Lyons, David Rosenberg, Nomi Victor and junior Molly Bronitsky.

Interact is a community service club. They work at shelters, sponsor clothing or food drives and they hope to be involved in some tutoring this year. One of their important events this year was a Halloween Party at the Bristol Lodge Shelter. The officers are tri-presidents Laura Greenberg, Aliza Phillips and Karen Stern, and secretary Rebecca Cohen.

The Environmental Club started a school-wide paper recycling program this year. They are also going to begin juice can recycling and newspaper recycling. Their goal is to get more students aware of the things they can do to help the environment. The officers are tri-presidents, Nicki Bazer, Heather Maisel and Paul Parsons. Hemant Iyer is the secretary.

The Charity Club was started this year by presidents Mike Shonkoff and Eli Chapman. The club raises money for different organizations. They have raised money for the Massachusetts Breast Cancer Coalition, the RFK Foundation and Caring For Children which provides health insurance for six to eighteen year olds.

INTEREST CLUBS

Peer Leadership is a two and a half credit course taught by Ms. Timberlake and Ms. DiMella. Students in the course study drug and alcohol abuse. Groups of students are sent to D.A.R.E. classrooms in the elementary schools to talk about peer pressure. They also answer questions on the problems students might face in junior high and high school.

Mediation is a way for students to resolve problems without violence. Thirty-six students became newly trained mediators this year. A new position, student co-chair, was created. Mike Shonkoff held this position; he helped to plan refresher sessions for the mediators and helped with publicity for the program.

NNOW, Newton North Organization for Woman, was started this year by seniors Tracy Grinnell and Meg Rothman, and junior Abby Mnookin. The group helped defend the Crittendon Health Clinic and Planned Parenthood of Boston against members of Operation Rescue. They hope to get speakers this year to talk about women's issues, such as date rape.

Ethos for Equality played an important role in organizing the all-school assembly dealing with swastikas and anti-semitism. The club also sent students to this year's Reebok Human Rights Awards which took place in December. Senior Anna Doherty was the club's president this year.

F.A.T.E., Fighting AIDS Through Education was started this year. The club was formed in order to educate Newton North students and other members of our community about the issue of AIDS. They raised ten thousand dollars at a dance-a-thon for the AIDS Action Committee. They held a dance and ran a raffle to raise funds for a student run hotline.

Student Union Organization was formed by Principal James Marini after he closed the Bacon/Riley lounge areas. This year, the SUO created a lounge area in the cafeteria by obtaining furniture and carpeting. SUO consisted of students, faculty, and parents. They all worked with the administration to revise the cafeteria rules. SUO members met with Alicia Dillian, the director of North's food services, and Christine Hooper, the director of food services for Newton Public Schools, to work on improving the efficiency of food distribution in the Student Union.

Amnesty International is an organization that is devoted to human rights. "Every year, our chapter writes over 400 urgent actions, or letters to the leaders of countries asking them to set free political prisoners of conscience, prisoners who have not even been charged with a crime," explained co-president Jane Saczynski. The other co-president was Jen Antonellis. In addition to writing letters, the club has attended the Reebok Human Rights Awards.

North's new Committee for a Multicultural Curriculum worked hard throughout the year, organizing to research new material for the English and History and social sciences departments. Starting as a part of Ethos for Equality, the C.M.C. divided into task forces, and is now seeking to create a curriculum that will include everyone's story. They plan on continuing their work over the summer and next year.

This year, with 12 core members, the Black Leadership Advisory Council was a driving force in several schoolwide events. They helped to organize a school-wide assembly in early December, at which regional Anti-defamation League director Leonard Zakim addressed students. The B.L.A.C. raised money for a black scholarship fund. They also helped organize Black History Festival Day in late February. Officers included Tanya Brown, Jaymal Searcy, Jenica Dover, Alicia St. Louis, and Patrick Luizzo.

Students Against Drunk Driving started the year off by handing out red ribbons during the holiday season. Students and faculty put these ribbons on their cars to stress the importance of driving sober. Other activities included hosting an on campus speaker who spoke on the dangers of drinking and driving, and the club members also took a field trip. Additionally, S.A.D.D. posted newspaper articles around the school before the prom, and planned a school-wide activity. Officers included juniors Jamie Rubin, Josh Nygro, Molly Bronitsky, Jen Beradino, Nicole Anglese, and senior Titon Hoque.

ACADEMIC CLUBS

This year, Model United Nations went from a club to a class, where students could receive academic credit. The group began the year by writing research papers about the conflicts in Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. They held mock conferences in their class and twenty three students participated in a conference at Harvard. Officers included president Kurt Tommy, vice-president Melissa LoPorto, secretary Diana Lane and treasurer Becky Berman.

This year the Speech Team was very successful. Captains were seniors Karen Stern and Miriam Weiner. Stern said that the team was looking forward to competing in the state finals in the early spring.

A new club this year, the Electronics Club, focused on raising money to buy materials for various projects, and deciding on which projects to make. Ten students, including the founders of the club, Norm Adams and Ara Knainin, successfully constructed a number counter.

The Science Club was busy this year while participating in a Regional Science Bowl, a Physics Olympiad and a Science Olympiad. Other activities included the annual egg drop contest and a new tutoring program geared for students in math and science. This year's officers were Caroline Keller, president; Brad Baker, competition coordinator; Jesse Bankman, treasurer; Hannah Shay, secretary; and Ed Keller, Interhouse representative.

Under the direction of their president, Suzanne Henry, the varsity Math Team competed once a month at regional meets.

CLASS COMMITTEES

Led by their class officers, Becca Udler, Janet Lewis, Michael Holczer and Karen Bonadio, this year's Freshman Class Committee enjoyed success with many different projects. Meeting every Thursday morning in the House of '96, the freshmen started the year off with secret buddies and a bake sale. According to Udler, the committee president, other activities included candy sales, making over 200 Valentines for veterans, a big raffle in the winter and a field trip in the spring.

At the beginning of the year, the goal of the Sophomore Class Committee was to increase the number of activities to be done as a class.

"We have put our efforts into not only raising money, but also in organizing class activities," Leslie Adleson, the president said. Other officers were Stephanie Liang, vice-president, Lara Peterson, treasurer, and Becca Epstein, secretary. According to Adleson, the class has accomplished the goal by organizing secret buddies before Christmas. "It was a success because we had more than 100 participants in the program."

This year, the Junior Class Committee was under the leadership of officers Emma Reinhardt, president; Will Saxe, vice-president; Melanie Levy, secretary; and Saul Lookner, treasurer. The junior class went apple picking, hiking, had secret buddies, sold candy and decorated spoons for the homeless. They had a car wash, a junior dance, and many bake sales. They ended the year with a class beach trip.

The Senior Class Committee organized the annual Halloween and Lip-Sync contests, senior buddies, a ski trip to Montreal, and two school dances. They set up a Prom Committee, and as a result, the prom was held at the Long Wharf Marriott of Boston. They sponsored a field trip to the Red Sox game and helped the Student Union Committee to improve the quality of the Student Union.

"I was glad that I took the challenge to be a class president, because it did not only influence my life, but also I felt that I have helped the entire class committee to make the seniors of North to have a better year," Chris Cunningham, the president, said.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The S.F.A. has dealt with many issues this year. A new Senior Sign-In policy was implemented. They also looked at the issue of giving freshman and sophmores open campus during lunchtime. Due to the teacher work action the S.F.A. has been primarily student run. Senior member, Daniel Allen, who has chaired most of the meetings, said that the absence of the teachers has "made everyone else work harder to make sure the meeting goes well. Other senior members include Tracy Scott and alternate Jean-Paul Jaillet.

The Humam Rights Committee was formed in response to negative. It is a coalition made up of representatives from each human Rights club in the school. Senior Seth Cohen is the president, and junior Abby Mnookin is vice president, Becca Weider is the secretary. They planned and organized activities for Black History Month, Women's History Month, and Asian History month.

ATHLETIC CLUBS

The Ski Club had their most successful year yet, adding many new members and going on two great trips. The club took a day trip to Sunday River and an overnight trip to Canon Loon. Officers included Dana Devlin, Whitney Wallace, Josh Nigro, Addison Greenwood, and Vanessa Ritz.

The Rock Climbing Club was headed this year by student coordinator Rachel Kuller and equipment manager Benjamin Eisenbraun. They climbed on the weekends in the fall and the spring at Hammond Woods with instructor Beth Holmberg, a graduate student at Brown. They had a bake sale to raise money so that they could buy their own climbing equipment.

The Crew Club consisted of 80 members this year. They had approximately eight races, competing against private schools. The club trained on land and water to acquire the skills, strength and technique needed to be a successful rowers. This is the third season that the crew club has been active at Newton North, throughout the fall, winter and spring. Several students participated in the Head of the Charles, and several won the Head of the Textiles Regatta.

The Lady From Maxim's

Five plays were scheduled for production for the '92-'93 season. The first play of the year, The Lady From Maxim's by George Feydeau, was directed by Tom DePeter and student directed by Dawn Kamerling. The play, a french farce, took place in the early twentieth century in the mythical Republic of Louisiana. The storyline follows Dr. Petypon's attempts to conceal his mistress, known as the Shrimp, from his devout wife, Gabrielle. Adding to the confusion of many mix-matched couples was a magical chair in Dr. Petypon's office which froze the characters' actions and caused them to dream.

Other plays that were produced this year included two one-act comedies, The Actor's Nightmare, by Christopher Durang, and God, by Woody Allen, student directed by Marcy Brink and Anne Dudek. The Actor's Nightmare was about an accountant, George Spelvin, who suddenly finds himself starring in a play with which he is totally unfamiliar. God was about a play within a play written by an ancient Greek named Hepatitis, starring another ancient Greek named Diabetes. The Inner Circle, a play about AIDS, was directed by and Irene Cucina-Clancy and junior Becca Schulman and thing XXX.

Also to be produced are a Shakespeare production with Newton South and I Remember Mama, directed by Inz Dover.

INTERNATIONAL CLUBS

The Russian Club has organized many events this year involving different aspects of Russian culture. The club has seen Russian movies, prepared Russian food, and has read Russian literature. The purpose of the club is to teach students about Russian culture and to create an understanding in the school of this culture. The officers are president Alli Storer, vice-president Miriam Weiner, secretary Justin Neisuler and treasurer Rebecca Steiner.

The Asian Culture Club is a place where Asian students can come together to learn about their culture. It allows the large group of Asian students at North to meet. Other students can also learn about Asian culture through this club. This year the club held a celebration for the Chinese New Year. They also raised money through a bake sale. The officers are co-presidents Leana Yee and Celina Lee, vice-president Chau Ly, and treasurer Susan Chinsen.

The Spanish Club got together this year to watch a Spanish movie and later, to have a multi-ethnic dinner party. This year's officers were Marcy Brink, Moira Chang, Natasha Shi, and Suzanne Henry.

Winning the 1991-1992 Bay State League Championship, placing second in the State Competition, and participating in the International Competition at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, were the highlights for the 1992-1993 cheerleading squad. Despite changes over the past four years as the squad's status shifted from sport, to club, and back to sport, they maintained their enthusiastic and determined support for their fellow athletes. They cheered at every football game of the season, every home game, and Friday night away games of the basketball season. At the same time they were practicing 12-15 hours a week in preparation for the six competitions they attended.

The most memorable moments of the season came "when the team held together through the difficult times, while we were getting a new coach," said senior Dina Salvucci, the captain. Other cheerleaders commented that they really enjoyed the camp that they attended during pre-season where they won the Top Team Award.

The legacy of the 92-93 squad is loyalty to the school. Their memories, bound in fun and friendship, will last forever.

A first place finish in the Bay State League meet capped off a consistently strong season for the Tiger runners. With an 8-2 record, the boys cross country team had an impressive season, according to head coach James Blackburn. Winning the meet against Walpole, former Bay State league champion, was a highlight of the 1992 season.

The Tigers began the season expecting that it would be mainly a rebuilding year. The depth and competition of the other teams in the league were unpredictable. However, the Tigers set their goals high, hoping to finish the season undefeated.

The Tigers won major meets against very competitive and experienced teams such as Wellesley, Natick and Brookline. Senior co-captain Mike Dedekian cited the first meet of the season against Norwood as a pivotal win.

"It was a major upset and proved our ability", he said.

Dedekian also said that a unified team was key in consolidating the unexpected wins of the season.

With only two close losses to Walpole and Braintree, they nearly succeeded in accomplishing their challenging goal. Dedekian remarked that had the Tigers been giving 100% in those particular meets, they would have triumphed over their competitors. However, when the Tigers edged out Walpole in the League meet, it exemplified the team's superior talent.

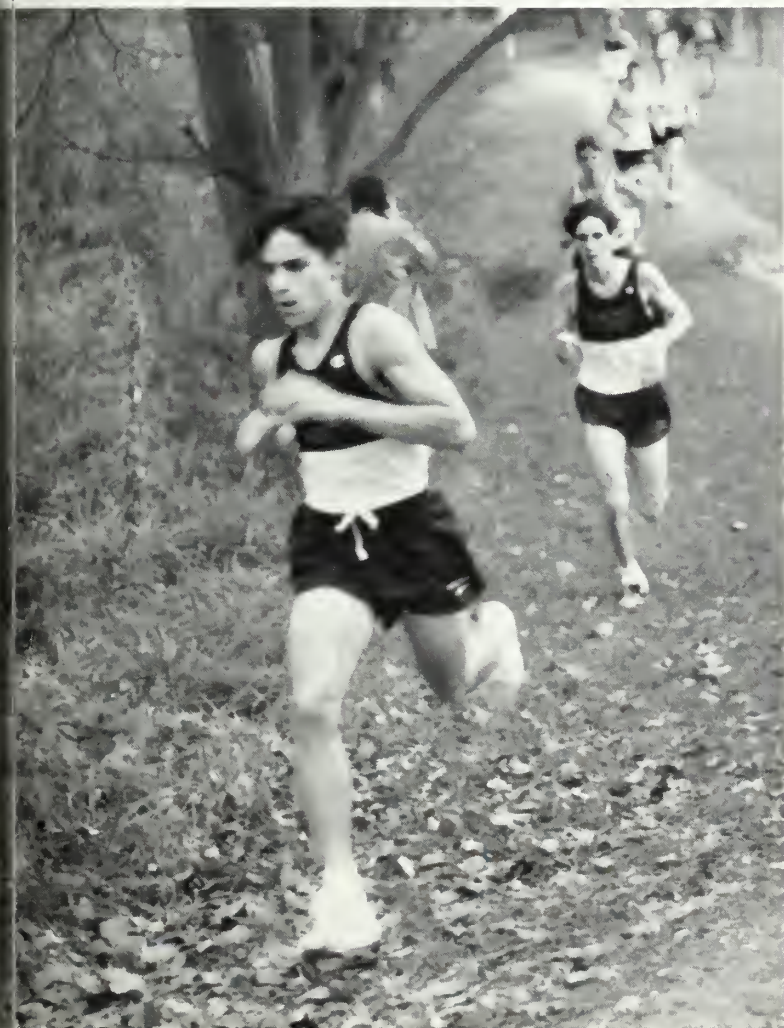

According to Blackburn, key contributors for the team were Dedekian and senior co-captain Brendan MacKay, as well as juniors Ben Worthen, Jason Miles, Mike Uttaro and Luke Reusser. With strong returning runners and more experience, Blackburn is setting the same high expectation of an undefeated season for next year.

This year's women's cross-country team put forth a great amount of effort to continue a victorious tradition. Finishing with an 8-1 record the Tigers were first in the Bay State League. They also finished second in the Catholic Memorial Invitational, second in the Class A division meet and fifth overall in the state.

"I'm quite happy. It was a good performance on the teams part," said head coach Peter Martin. "Everyone worked very hard and it all paid off throughout the season."

Tri-captains Jane Saczynski, Katie Reppert and Jenny Martin were all-stars along with sophomores Johanna Morrissey and Tracy Northrup. "No one, including us, expected us to do as well as we did. It was a very pleasant surprise," said Saczynski. This season Martin was also chosen as All-Scholastic.

Other key runners of the season were seniors Molly Smith, Parastou

Sodagar, junior Miriam Scorzelli and sophomore Martha Holt. Scorzelli and Holt will be captains next year.

The key to winning a meet lies more in how the second, third, fourth and fifth runners perform rather than just the first runner, and that's where the women's cross-country team found success. The large size of the team also added to the spirit. Teammates were always there to give each other support.

Another factor that affected the team's performance was the leadership provided by the three captains. "The captains always helped to raise the team's spirits, even after a loss," said coach Martin.

Summing up the season, Reppert said, "It was a great season. The team was very close and very supportive. Most of us have been running together for years, and there was a real team unity among everyone."

The 1992 season proved to be exceptionally successful and rewarding for the Field Hockey team. The team boasted a record of 10-3-4, were Bay State League Carey Division Champs and were able to participate in the State tournament.

The team did not expect to fair so well and were thus quite excited about their success. Though the team lost in the quarter finals to Weston the players were satisfied with their performance.

"I felt it was an amazing season. We started off the year thinking it was going to be a re-building season but once we started playing, we worked extremely well together and became really close as a team," Senior Tri-Captain Megan Watkins said.

The highlight of the season occurred when the Tigers tied Walpole, the Hegert Division champs. 1-1.

"We were very anxious and excited," said Watkins. "Everyone who had played them in past games was very nervous, but we were mentally prepared for the game," she said.

Senior Tri-Captain Kathleen Boyce also remarked on the ability of the Tigers to play successfully as a team. She said that everyone was a key player at some point.

Seniors Boyce and Watkins and juniors Dana Devlin, Colleen Gannon, Sarah Mazur, a Tri-Captain, and Casi Walker were cited as major contributors.

Boyce commented on the season in general, saying, "We really played like a great team can. It's a great way to end my four years at North."

At the beginning of their 1992 season, the Newton North High School football team aspired to finish with a winning season and beat Brookline on the 91st annual Thanksgiving Day game.

The tigers ended the season with a 6-4 record coming from behind with 4 consecutive wins against the league's toughest teams to clinch the Bay State League Carey Division, the first ever league championship for Newton North football. Highlights of the season include a 7-6 victory over Walpole who was ranked 9th in Eastern MA but dropped to 16th with the loss, a 7-0 victory over Brookline on Thanksgiving Day, and an outstanding display of team unity with a 29-12 victory over Natick. Co-captain James Doherty commented that "we had not had a game all season where both the defense and offense came together so powerfully."

This unity was demonstrated brilliantly throughout the whole season. Seniors John Moore and Torry Bolter agreed that the team became extremely close as the season progressed and everyone, whether they were a starter or a backup, played an important role in the team's success.

The team was able to accomplish their goals with the skill, dedication and spirit of Co-captains Chris Claflin and Doherty, who were standouts on both the offensive and defensive lines, seniors Billy O'Brien, Dan McManus and Jason Young as well as juniors Brian Cox, Adam Hunt and Jon McMillan. Versatile players included seniors Torry Bolter, Kalomo Harris and Chris Demaio and junior Rowan Baptiste.

Coach Peter Capodilupo sited the seniors as an outstanding group of individuals who deserve much credit.

"They were good role models for the younger players because they sent out a positive message. The captains, Doherty and Claflin, were persistent, direct, and never lost the ability to lead even when the times were rough," he said.

Overall, both Cappy and the team were very satisfied with this year's season.

"They weren't a big team, but they had big hearts."

With a 13-1 record, a Bay State League Championship and a South Sectional title, the 1992 Golf team heads into the State championship in June as a definite favorite. The team was composed primarily of talented seniors who had been looking forward to their senior year as a chance to be exceptional.

The Tigers lost their first match against Braintree which was disappointing because they had aspired to go undefeated this season. The team had risked writing 'Bay State League Champs' on their team jackets and could not afford to lose. However, the Tigers managed to win the remaining thirteen games, a remarkable feat.

"We had something to prove and we did. We could not be stopped," said Senior Chris O' Toole.

Highlights of the season was the Newton South game and the Braintree re-match. Though South was not in the Bay State League, the golfers expressed a deep satisfaction in defeating this rival team, according to Co-Captain senior Dan Lerner. O'Toole said that although there were many close matches, like Braintree, the Tigers always managed to pull through.

"We had a mission and we stuck together," he said, "Everyone helped us to win.

To top off the Tigers team success, a major thrill in the season occurred when Senior Paul Arpino hit a hole in one during practice one afternoon. Coach Jerry Phillips had said "Let's see a hole in one guys," and Paul's shot just landed and went in. Arpino said that he was confident his game would significantly improve after this hole.

Key golfers were Arpino, Co-Captains, Andy Ingham and Lerner, senior Matt Nishibori, O' Toole and junior Jim O'Reilly. Arpino and O'Toole were Bay State League all-stars.

Lerner said that North and Xaverian Brothers School are favorites in the state competition in June. He said that if the Tigers capture the state title, they will have achieved all of their goals and the seniors on the team will be especially pleased.

"It was definitely a year to look forward to for our seniors, he said. "We have been waiting three years to do this well."

"We lived up to our goals and we're not done yet," he said.

Although the men's soccer team lost some excellent seniors last year, the team worked hard and earned a place in the state tournament. With a record of 11-5-1 the Tigers had a significantly better season than last year and defeated teams they had not expected to.

Early in the season the Tigers saw that they could win many games with the skill and commitment present on the team. They aspired to make the state tournament and were satisfied when they did.

Junior Co-Captain, Forest St. Clair, remarked on the team's success saying that it was excellent in comparison to last year.

"I thought we had a great come back season from a mediocre one last year," he said. "It was a good year for giving underclassmen experience."

The victory over Framingham, the current state champs, was the definite high point of the season for the Tigers. Newton caused Framingham their only loss and the Tigers expressed extreme satisfaction in doing so.

Two seniors, Toby Rand and Dave Rosenberg, had an outstanding final season while Juniors Pat Brickley, Brandon Doyle, St. Clair, Ben Stockman and Co-Captain Russel Walker also contributed significantly to the teams success. Walker was a Bay State League all-star and the League's leading scorer with 17 goals and 8 assists.

Although the team was defeated by Greater New Bedford in the first round of the state tournament, the Tigers had a remarkable season overall.

Walker said that the team won games they did not expect to and accomplished the goals they set at the beginning of the season.

"We wanted to make the state tournament and we did," he said. "We didn't do much beyond that but we are definitely satisfied."

Upholding a strong tradition of excellence, the Women's soccer team managed to capture the coveted state title this season. An overall record of 22-1-1 makes evident the commitment, skill and team unity of these Tigers.

According to Head Coach T.J Williams, the past tradition and team rank set the goals for the season. Women's soccer generally plays under tremendous pressure to succeed and this year the Tigers were able to cruise through the state tournament with confidence and strength. Williams remarked that he truly believed that the 1992 Newton North team is the best team in the state and the best team he has ever coached.

"I've coached better individual players in certain positions but these girls are definitely the best as a team," he said.

North had depth and skill all over the field. Senior goalie Tracy Scott, a co-captain, Senior sweeper Meg Kassakian, a co-captain, Senior midfielders Amy Burrill and Christina Marianni and striker Caitlin Feeney were all commended for their outstanding performances. Burrill, Feeney and Scott were nominated as Bay State League All-stars and Burrill and Feeney are Eastern Mass. All-stars.

Kassakian mentioned the strong sense of unity the team had which contributed to their success immensely.

"We were incredibly close as a team," she said, "We had so much fun on and off the field."

However, the season was not without struggle. The Tigers tied their first game to Framingham, traditionally a rival team and lost to Walpole. Yet these games allowed the team to be humbled and keep everything in perspective. The Walpole loss served as a major turning point in the season for the Tigers. After this, the team was more able to recognize mistakes and began their peak efforts that would arrive them in the States.

The Tigers defeated Fontbonne, Bridgewater-Raynham, Whitman-Hanson, Walpole and Framingham in the tournament. The 4-0 victory against Framingham was the championship game as far as the team was concerned. Williams said that during the Framingham game the emotional high and physical peak of the players was more intense than at any of the other important games.

"We were happy after the States, we were ecstatic after Framingham," Williams said.

The Women's Swimming and Diving team enjoyed a successful year, despite an overwhelmingly large team. Finishing the regular season at 9-2, the Tigers placed third in the Bay State League.

"The team was very consistent and we had a satisfying season," said head coach Chris Jones. "There were no surprises and no let downs."

Jones said he was proud of how much the team accomplished this year, considering its large size. The Tigers were propelled by a strong group of senior swimmers who helped to bring the team together. Jones was also impressed with the sacrifices individuals made for the benefit of the team.

"The team really came together and supported each other," senior tri-captain Beth Freitas said.

Continuing a long tradition of rivalry and competition, the team's only two losses were to Wellesley, 87-98; and Needham, 92-94. The Tigers agreed that this year was the best North has ever done against Wellesley, this year's state champions.

"We really gave them a good swim," senior tri-captain Emily Grantham said.

The Needham meet remained tied until the very end when the home team edged past Newton by two points. A highlight of the meet was when senior tri-captain, Martha Quebec, edged out the League's top diver and placed first in the diving event. Although disappointing, the two losses were not unexpected.

Seniors Freitas, Grantham and Quebec and sophomores Meghan Grantham, Rachel Quebec and Andrea Slate were the team's top competitors. Throughout the season there were consistently strong diving performances by Martha Quebec, senior Sarah Mangion, junior Elisa Boden and sophomore Elizabeth Shulman.

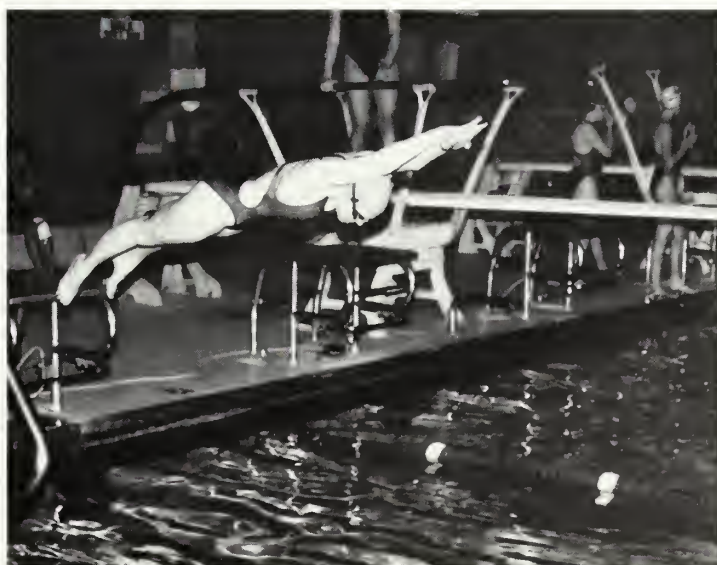

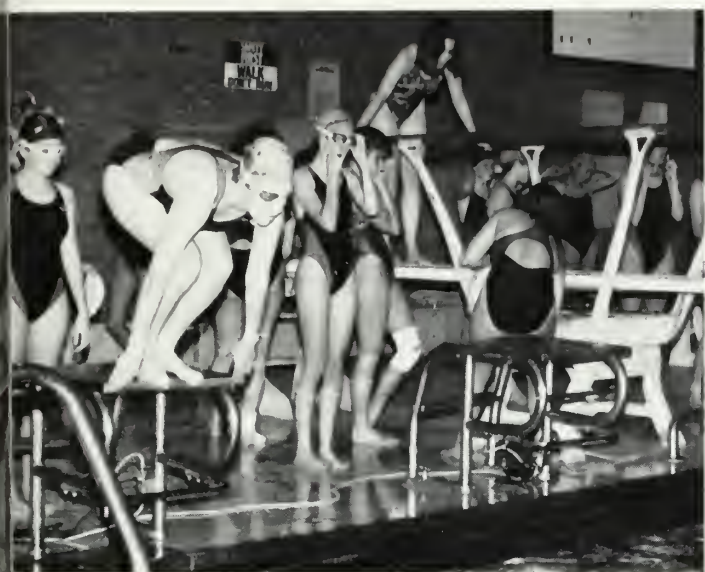

Four members of the team also qualified for both the south sectional and the state meet as individuals, E. Grantham, M. Quebec, R. Quebec and Slate. The team placed eleventh overall.

Reflecting on the season in general, Jones remarked that it was rewarding as well as amusing.

"I had a lot of fun, the women had a lot of fun, and we were successful."

From the beginning of pre-season the women's volleyball team knew they wanted to make the state tournament. Having established this goal, hard work and swift determination prompted them to attain it.

The team enjoyed success early in the season which inspired further confidence and motivation.

"During pre-season we didn't know who would be playing what positions. By the time the season arrived we had it figured out and we ended up working well as a team," explained senior Rachel Kraus.

"We knew the team was working when we played well against Natick, the eventual state champs," she said.

Organization and team unity were paramount to the Tigers victories. Kraus attributed a large part of the Tiger's success to the fact that all the players possessed an unfailing attitude and spirit. Though the Tigers lost to Brookline, the game provided an opportunity to re-assess team ability and effort.

"After losing to Brookline the first time, we really pulled ourselves together. When we beat them the second time we realized what the team could do," said senior captain Heather Maisel.

The team's primary strength stemmed from the combination of league all-stars, junior Susan Chinson, rookie sophomore Stephanie Liang and Maisel. Junior Clara Lieu, Kraus and junior Vanessa Ritz were also cited as key players.

Though the Tigers succeeded in reaching the state tournament, unfortunately, they lost in the first round to Walpole. This was a great disappointment for the team because they had defeated Walpole during the regular season.

"We felt we could have done better and it was hard to end the season like that," said Kraus.

Overall, the Tigers had much to be proud of this season. They managed to come together as an organized, unified team and bring home a triumphant season.

Newton North boys' basketball team experienced a see-saw season, finishing the regular season at 9-11. North beat some of the best teams in the league, including #1 Braintree. Rebounding from the inconsistent season, the team turned it around at the end to place second in the division and qualify for the state tournament.

Although the team had some unexpected losses, five games were lost by less than five points. "The season had it's ups and downs, but our second half of the season has gone nothing but ups," said junior, captain Adam Hunt. The season ended with a disappointing loss to long-time rival Brookline.

Despite the Brookline loss, the team had high hopes. "We're going to surprise people," predicted senior Matt Davenport. This prediction proved correct during the Newton North Invitational, North beat Burlington 68-65. In the second and final game, North beat Wellesley in overtime and won the Invitational.

Coach Phillips took special notice of the "super attitude" of the team. Phillips went on to say, "A strong part of our team is that we don't just have one or two players playing hard, we have the whole team playing hard." Senior Tom Akyali observed "It says something about the character of the team that we should lose six in a row and still come back finish our season strongly." Both of this year's captains, Hunt and junior Rowan Baptiste, had excellent seasons. As point guard, Hunt dazzled the fans with numerous steals, three-pointers, and creative passes. Baptiste had a brilliant season at guard, leading the team in rebounds. Special mention should be of junior Cliff Arpino, who started the season on Junior Varsity and became a starting guard on Varsity.

Summarizing the season, Senior Peter Lyons said, "We all worked hard and had a good time." The determined players pushed themselves until they turned the season around. The amount of improvement was the most noteworthy aspect of the season. The young team has good prospects for next year including many returning players. Among them are top rebounders, junior Bernard Johnson and freshman Todd McNamara. Hopefully the team can build next season on their success at the end of this season.

This year's girl's basketball team experienced a drastic turn around from last year's 2-16 record. With the return of seniors Caitlin Feeny and Tracy Scott, junior Liz Levine and sophomore Kim Visco, the tigers were able to become more competitive and landed a 3rd place finish in the BSL Carey Division with an overall record of 11-9. "The experience of the veterans and enthusiasm of the younger players, really contributed to this year's success," stated Feeny who returns this year after missing last season.

The squad lost their season conclusioner to Brookline which prevented them from advancing to the tournament. Coach Irene Cucina-Clancy explained that "in the BSL the team must have a record of 59% or better and be in first or second place to continue in the tournament. It's really frustrating because we had a better record than many of the teams who qualified."

Highlights of the season included wins over Milton, Framingham, Methuen and Braintree as well as the first place finish in the North Quincy Holiday tournament and a second place finish in the Thayer Holiday tournament. The tigers also made an appearance in the Division One Top 10 teams in the state, and for most of the season, led the BSL. Also celebrated this year was Cucina's 100th career victory on January 5, 1993.

Scott the captain, cited the younger players as instrumental individuals. "They came in with a lot of talent and desire to learn. They were inexperienced, but were able to rise to the occasion with the rest of the team."

Although the girls were unable to participate in the tournament, they had the most successful season in four years. "That's something to be credited about. They possessed the dedication, commitment and desire to play and I applaud each individual's effort," commented Cucina.

The 1992-1993 Men's Gymnastics team bounded their way to a 7-7 record in the Bay State League. With a smaller and weaker team than last year the team pulled off a better record. "We didn't have as strong or old a team as last year but everyone worked hard so we had a better record." explained Head coach Simkins.

The team suffered with the graduation of a few key members, but came back to have a great season. "It was a hard year because we lost a lot of good gymnasts last year. The season was also just too short for us to develop as much as we would have liked to."

The Tigers dominated the Bay State League meet with four gymnasts taking awards, some in multiple events. Junior Josh Meyer placed third in the still rings, Junior Nath Mann captured fifth in both floor exercise and vaulting, sophomore Brian Hangen was third on the pommel horse and senior co-captain Titon Hoque placed third on the vault and fifth in the all around competition. These same four gymnasts also won awards at the Salem Invitational.

North hosted the State Meet this year.

Although the Tigers did not compete as a team several individual gymnasts qualified and competed, all getting personal records. One of the biggest highlights of the season occurred at this meet when Hoque qualified for the Mass. Senior Gymnastics team and the National High School gymnastics Championships at the olympic training center in Michigan. "This was a real accomplishment for Titon, as well as the whole team." said Simkins.

The team was a close one. Everyone was important and needed at all meets. "We worked hard, all of us, no one was depended on to score all of the points. We worked as a team instead of as individual gymnasts." explained co-captain Jack Chang.

Looking towards next year coach Simkins is extremely positive. "We have essentially the same team returning the size of it will probably even double. Everyone seems very excited and optimistic about the next season." One goal the Tigers plan to achieve next year is beating Newton South for the "Newton Championship."

Despite making adjustments to a new coach and a smaller team, the women's gymnastics team scored consistently higher than last year. The Tigers captured their first meet against Wayland- an unexpected win and a solid opening to the season.

"We didn't expect to beat them because we lost to them last year but we were able to win because we had really strong scores in vaulting and floor exercise," said senior co-captain Meredith Orren.

This year the Tigers aspired to defeat Newton South, always a rival. Training especially hard in preparation for the meet, the team was disappointed when they lost by only three points.

"Our meet against South was crucial because we had been scoring relatively in the same range and had really practiced hard to bet them," Orren said.

She said that although everyone performed well under the pressure it seemed that the the scores were a little lower than the level of performance. Despite the loss, all agreed it was an excellent meet for everyone.

The team benefited greatly from the broad gymnastic knowledge of Coach Jim Chin. Orren and sophomores Rebecca Epstein, Julie Eshelman and Jessica Williams were able to work on some advanced tumbling with Chin and incorporate it into the later meets.

Orren said that although the Tigers do not have any "club gymnasts", like their stronger opponents Wellesley and Acton-Boxboro, the season was relatively successful. Top competitors were seniors Sarah Falkoff and Orren, sophomores Epstein, Eshelman and Williams and freshman Stephanie Keefe.

Orren said that the team didn't finish as strongly as they would have liked to as they lost students to the school exchanges and injuries.

At the beginning of the season the 1993 Tiger Hockey team had their work cut out for them. It was going to be a challenge to live up to the example set by the 1992 team who took the Bay State League title. But the team worked hard and did much better than was expected.

"At the beginning of the season we weren't supposed to do that well. But we were a hard working team and we did better than the papers thought we would and we were a better team than the fans expected," explained senior co-captain Jason Minaker. The team's hard work paid off and they accomplished their long term goal of reaching the Division I tournament where they finished in second place.

One of the major highlights of the season was the Tiger's victory over Norwood. "It was a really big win for us. Our goalies played a great game. Our back-up goalie, Steve Brant, started the game and ended up playing very well," said Minaker. The defense made the major difference against Norwood as the Tigers prevailed(4-2). Another memorable match-up was against Brookline where the Tigers were once again victorious with a high score of 9-1.

Key players this season included senior co-captains Chris Demaio and Jason Minaker, junior Anthony Desimone and sophomore Mike Mitchell. Senior Mike Cucinotta and junior Billy Hart contributed to a strong defense.

The Tigers made it to the Division I tournament but were eliminated in the first round by Falmouth. The game ended at 2:39 into overtime when Falmouth scored the final goal. The Tigers were defeated 4-3.

After such a successful 1992 season the fans were expecting a lot from their hockey team. The Tigers knew it would be hard to give them exactly what they wanted but they were a hard working team and certainly gave their fans everything they could. It was a successful season as the Tigers managed to carry on the hockey tradition with much pride.

The 1992-1993 men's swim team cruised through the Bay State League with a record of 7-1. The strong swimming of captains Matt Swensson (200 and 500 freestyle) and John Oliver (200 individual medley and 100 breaststroke) combined with the determination and commitment of senior Tom Taylor (freestyle), juniors Saul Lookner (100 backstroke), Peter McCarthy (freestyle sprints) and Brendan Snyder (200 individual medley and 100 backstroke) laed the team to a second place finish in the Bay State League and a seventh place finish in sectionals.

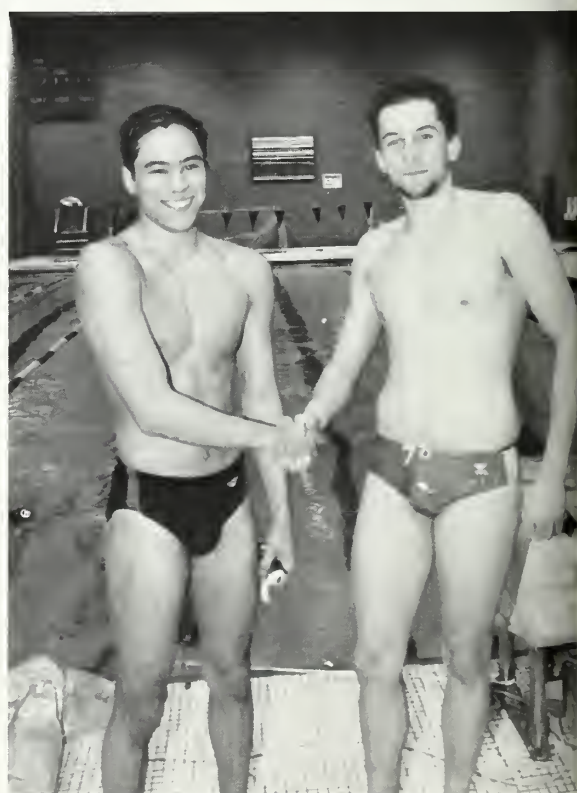

Highlights of the season include the record breaking 400 freestyle relay team of Swensson, Taylor, McCarthy and Oliver who swam a 3.31.08 in the Bay State League meet capturing first place and breaking a 14 year old school record. At the Bay State League meet Oliver also broke his own school record in the 200 IM.

Coach Chris " Doc " Jones was pleased with the preformance of his squad. He described them as being " a very congenial team who worked hard all season long. " He also cited seniors Tim Fallon and Alex Brown, junior Jon Taquo, sophomores Aaron Fisher and Jason Quinn, and freshman Mike Holazer as other key contributors to this year's team.

Swensson stated that " what made this team such a success was the positive attitude of all the members and the ability of individuals to fill in spots efficiently. " Lookner described the captianship of Swensson and Oliver as a moajor role in the teams success: " They were always encouraging, never criticizing and they were well respected by their peers and coaches. "

In terms of next year's squad, Doc said " it will be a challenge loosing all these talented seniors to graduation, however, I have the confidence that they will pull through and be successful. Just as they did this year. "

Strong performances in the Bay State league meets highlighted the season for Boy's Indoor Track.

"The guys seemed highly motivated for the dual meets," Coach James Blackburn said.

The first meet of the season resulted in a somewhat unexpected victory over Norwood. According to senior Mike Dedekian, a tri-captain, this presented the team with its primary goal for the season; to defend their Bay State League championship.

"After the first meet I thought we'd be able to repeat as league champs," said Jake Moerschel, a tri-captain. Brendan Mackay was the other tri-captain.

As the season progressed, the team's lack of depth proved to be its downfall. A team with tremendous individual talent, the boys lacked the sheer numbers needed to cover for injury and absence. Their two losses came from Walpole and Brookline, leaving a dedicated bunch of guys distraught over a second place finish in the league.

The situation could only improve. In the Bay State Championship meet, the boys proved once and for all that their team was composed of the most talented runners in the league. Taking first place in the meet were junior Ben Worthen in the two mile, senior Brendon McCue and juniors Yuval Bar-Ilan, Pat Brickley, and Walker in the mile relay. Missing first place by fractions of a second were Bar-Ilan in the 600 and Dedekian in the mile. The tigers had four other runners place in the meet.

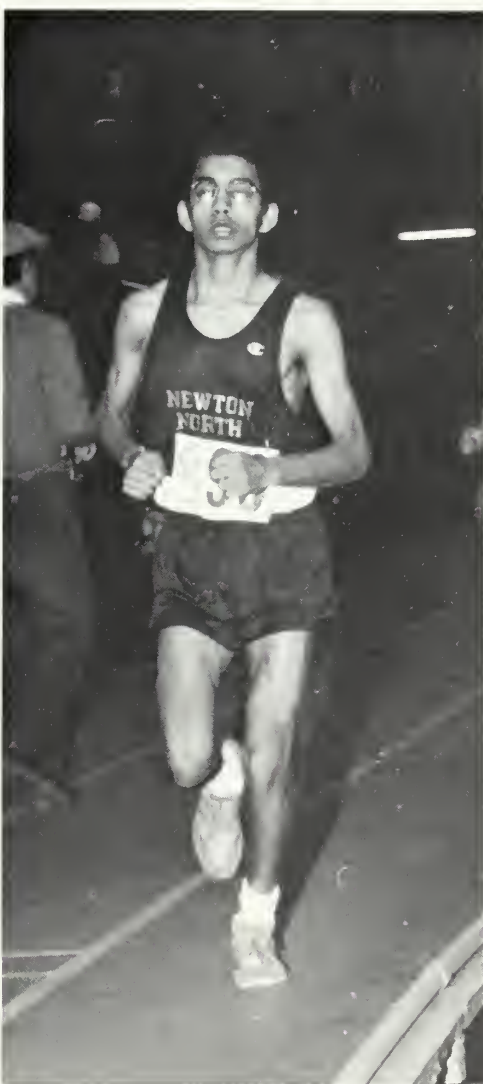

The season finished up quietly with a fourth place finish for the mile relay team in the class A relays. Moerschel and Mackay also ran in the class A meet. Moerschel was the lone representative of the Tigers in the All State meet where he bowed out gracefully in the final run of the 60m hurdles.

Dedekian, Moerschel, and Mackay pass the torch onto Walker, Bar-Ilan, Worthen, and Jason Miles all of whom will be captains for the 93-94 season.

The Girls' Indoor Track team finished the regular season undefeated and were league champions. In fact, the team hasn't lost a regular season dual meet since 1987. Camaraderie was especially high this year under the superb leadership of co-captains seniors Jenny Martin and Michelle McMillan as well as coaches Tranchita, Martin and Banks. Due to injuries, the team didn't have enough top players in enough events to place first like last year. While track finished fifth at the class A State Individual meet, they won the state relay championship.

State meet, and junior Deidre Straley placed fourth in the 1000 yard race at the Class A meet. The two mile relay team run by Martin, juniors Erika Johnson, Michelle D'Agostino and Straley finished second in the state. Senior Stephanie Walsh excelled at the 50 yard dash at the Individual meet. In the field aspect, senior Maxine Inniss finished fifth in the state by throwing the shot-put half-way around the world.

With its undefeated record and high scores at the State meets, Girls' track remains one of the finest teams in the state.

High school wrestling doesn't have wildmen running about in clad in crazy costumes.

It doesn't have good guys or bad guys, Hulk Hogan or turnbuckles.

High school wrestling consists of dedication, determination and desire.

"You have to love getting your face smashed into the ground," said senior Dan Freedberg. "You have to love running up and down stairs for 40 consecutive minutes. People just don't realize that wrestling isn't a sport, it's a way of life."

The Newton North wrestling squad lived triumphantly this season, racking up a 17-15-1 record under the tutelage of coach Paul Murphy. The Tigers finished first in the Central Division's regular season and placed third in the Sectionals.

Senior Matt Chisholm, one of five captains, led the team this season at 152. He rang up a 16-4 record and placed first at the Sectionals.

"Matt's a warrior," said senior Chuck Bell, also a quintripa-captain. "Other teams would cringe in fear when he would strap on the singlet. I'd bet you would fear him too."

Bell was no pushover himself at 130. He amassed a 14-3 record and placed fourth in the Sectionals. Junior Teddy Collatos piled up a 19-2 mark.

Seniors and captains Jason Young, Nate Orenstein, and Doug Straley were also very impressive. Young, nicknamed the "Terminator", commanded his way to fourth place at the Sectionals at 171. Straley grappled to third place at 140 and Orenstein mad-dogged to a 16-2 record.

"Nate's our hardest worker," Freedberg said. "He thinks, eats, sleeps, breathes wrestling. I love it."

"When the topic of a class is discipline, Nate Orenstein is the teacher of the year."

The Tigers beat out some other schools when they placed third at the Belmont Invitational Tournament.

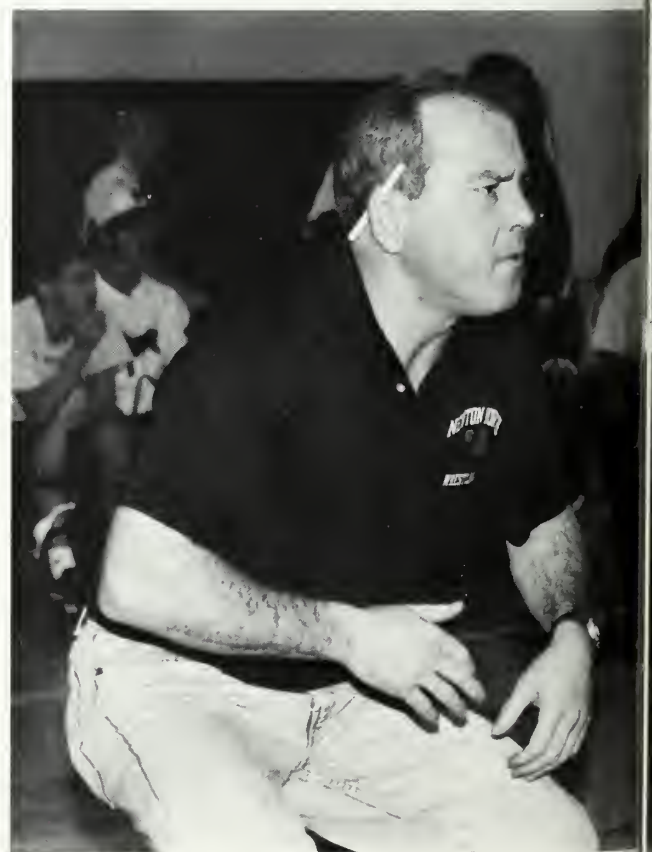

"We should have done a little better," Bell said. "The other schools are just simply lucky that we decided not to punish them."

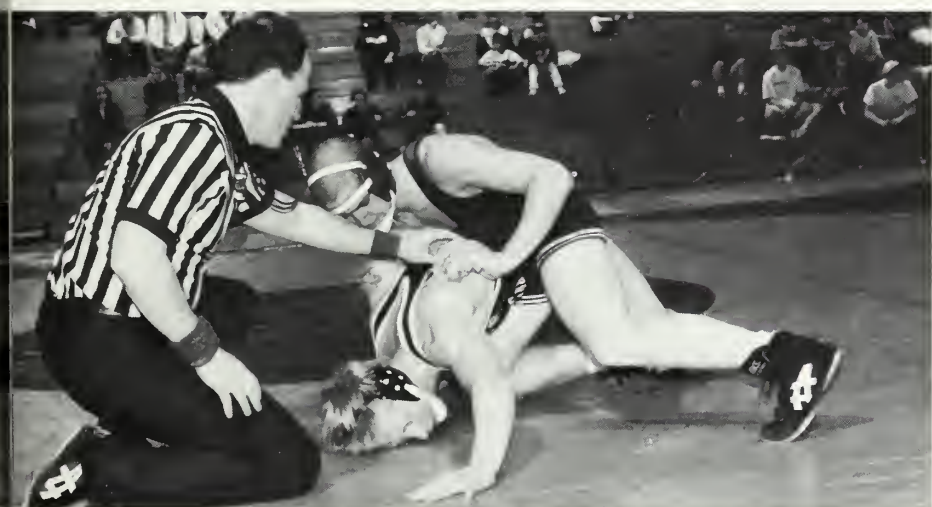

Freedberg not only agreed with Bell's remarks, but thought they were words to live by.

"Wrestling has taught me a lot about myself and my life. I now know that mercy is a valuable character trait."

"I realized that when walking down the street I could, with a couple of lightning-quick movements, throw any passer-by into a Boston Crab hold.

But I don't. Thank you wrestling."

Coach Joe Siciliano

Life is like baseball. You win some, you lose some, you wear funny pants while wielding a strange club. The baseball team was the essence of style, sporting a cohesive cast of players dedicated only to the pursuit of victory.

"This team wasn't really a team, it was a family," said senior Jean-Paul Jaillet, catcher. "If I was rounding a base, tripped and fell flat on my face, someone would be there to pick me up. If I got a limb caught in the pitching machine, someone would be there to turn it off. 'We cared for one another.'"

Seniors Brendan McCue and Jason Minaker had no sympathy for opponents, however, at times simply blowing pitches by bewildered batters.

"Bren's got a fastball that will scare you," said senior Steven Sher, an infielder. "He's got a knuckleball that will frighten and confuse you. And Jay's got a curveball that will make you run home and hide under your bed."

The infield, which included seniors Matt Jakubowski, Danny Pelligrini, Minaker and Sher, really looked sharp.

"The whole team was actually a bunch of sharpshooters," Jaillet concluded. "We weren't just players we were baseball mercenaries. We were the A-Team of the Bay State League."

After having a 5-15 record last spring, the Newton North women's softball team is optimistic to improve this year. There are only six returning players, which leaves many vacancies that need to be filled. Moving up from the junior varsity to the varsity level is a large step for many players because the pitching is much faster, and many players will be undertaking this transition.

This season, the team is going to focus on having a positive attitude. Coach Carolyn Harrington feels that "team unity is very important" and that by working together, success will eventually come. The team will be especially challenged by Braintree and Walpole this season, two strong Bay State League teams. Non-League teams Brockton and Waltham should also provide a challenge.

The team will be lead by the six returning and therefore more experienced players. Senior co-captain Andrea Murphy and senior Rachel Kraus provide strong pitching and junior Sarah Mazur is very effective at second base. Seniors Erica Johnson, Alycia Marini and junior Colleen Smith will also be strong contributors. Coach Harrington said that the addition of junior Asha Clayton-Neiderman this year will help the team greatly.

Overall, the women's softball team is excited for a great season, one full of opportunity for a big improvement, that the team feels they are ready for.

MEN'S LACROSSE

Losing to Longmeadow in the state finals last June provided inspiration for this year's men's Lacrosse team to capture the title.

The Tigers, who were BSL, South sectional and Eastern Mass. champions in 1992, will have to train even harder this year to accomplish their goals, according to Senior Kevin Renna.

"It's going to be a long road ahead but we'll do it," he said.

With their exceptional skill and determination, the team hopes to defeat such top competitors as Lincoln-Sudbury, Concord-Carlisle, Weymouth, Phillips Andover Academy and Billerica.

Though the Tigers lost major players to graduation last June, the team is flanked with expertise and integrity at each spot on the field. Key players on this year's squad are seniors Chris Claflin, a co-captain, and Andy Golden on attack, seniors Jamie Doherty, a co-captain, Chris Demaio, Matt Chisolm and Toby Rand at midfield, and Renna, senior Jason Young and junior Brandon Doyle on defense.

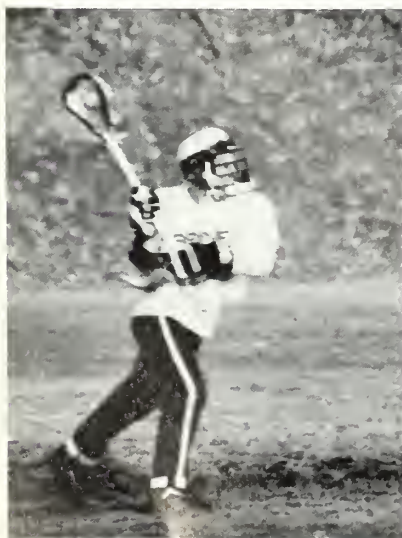

In addition to the loss of experienced seniors, the team will suffer from the injuries of Doherty and Golden, who will be on the sidelines indefinitely.

However, under the leadership of the two captains, the team hopes to overcome these setbacks. Senior goalie Josh Spar cited Claflin and Doherty as tough, determined players and good team leaders.

"We'll have to work around things but hopefully our talented seniors as well as the underclassmen will work together for a winning season," Spar said.

After losing seven seniors, five of which were starting defenders, the Women's Lacrosse team will have to focus on defense.

"Last year's record, 8-7-1, did not reflect the team's talent," said senior co-captain Tracy Scott, "hopefully we can have fun while remaining competitive."

Returning Seniors include co-captains Tracy Scott and Tracy Grinnell, Paula Gonzalez, Amy Burrill, Laura Jackson, Niki Huff, Stephanie Walsh and Kathleen Boyce.

"Between the returning seniors and the juniors who played on varsity last year, we have a lot of potential. It's all a matter of playing together," added Grinnell.

Irene Cucina-Clancy, head coach, likes to focus on defensive team play and stick work. Practices consist of fundamentals and fitness as well as the "confusion" drill in which players are constantly switching defense and offense, with the emphasis on the transition between the two. Cucina-Clancy notes that the tough games last year were Longmeadow, Framingham, Brookline, and the always heated rivalry with Newton South. However, she does add that, "It's great to win, but I don't want all the emphasis on winning."

MEN'S TENNIS

It is the time of the French Revolution. A time when the guillotine smacks up and down the streets run red with blood. The heaps of broken corpses might cause an observer to ask, "what has made man turn so harshly against his fellow man? What has caused death to walk the streets in the guise of justice, with terror as his scythe?" Or perhaps our observer would wonder if there would ever be an end to horror that seems inevitable as the sunrise.

Only one force was powerful enough to end this evil, the force of tennis. And on August 15, 1789, the legions of goodness gathered, with rackets in their hands to take the "tennis court oath." It was the glorious beginning of a glorious game.

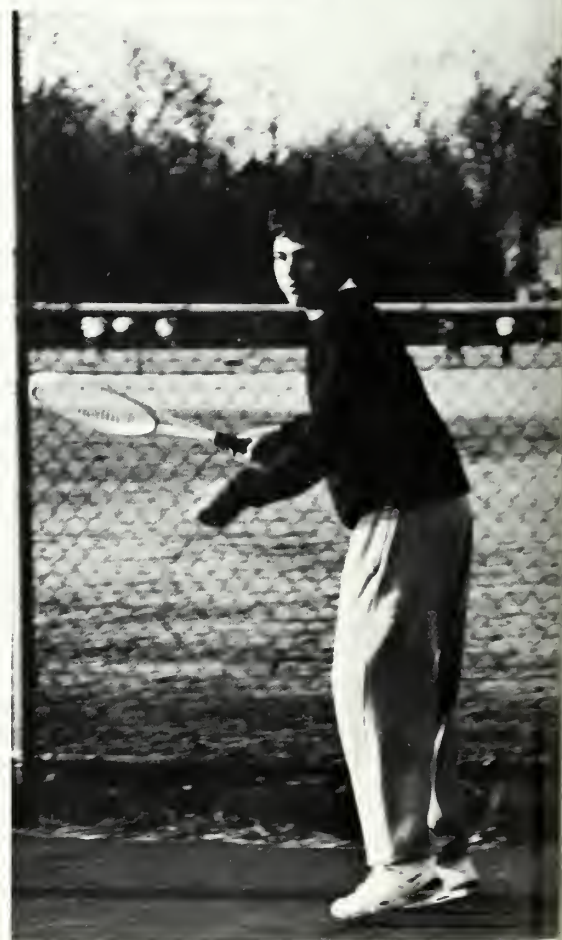

The sport of tennis has helped evolve and craft the superior warriors of today, culminating in a raucous assemblage of blood, sweat and tears: the Newton North tennis team. The squadron is led by a fearsome trio of musketeers, senior captains Brian Colton, Chris Martino, and Bill O'Brien-journeymen who have helped compile a 50-11 record over the last three years. Colton, riding a glorious wave of fury and fortune ever since he wielded a racket as a lowly rascal, was named Eastern Mass. second team all-star last year, and Martino, with his gentlemanly fashion and brazen chest, won the Bay State League 1992 Sportsmanship award. With his graphite wide-body racket named Shirley, O'Brien harkens back to earlier agrarian times when men were men. As Bill says, "When I take Shirley in my hand, I feel the wrath of vengeance upon me, and in an unholy tour de force I drive my heathen opponents from the court."

With this attitude the Tigers hope to not only repeat as Bay State League champions after a 15-4 season, but capture the State title and achieve their final goal of gaining the attention of leaders around the globe in their quest for world peace. But before the Tigers can gain this recognition, they must muster enough eccentricity and clairvoyance to defeat the reigning four-time defending state champions Lincoln-Sudbury, the effervescent and determined flyers of Framingham, and the highland warriors of Brookline, North's eternal arch rival.

The Tigers will be following the resurgence of optimism and internal revolutionary ideas that accompany the Clinton administration with the addition of freshmen phonemes John Temin and Adam Serri. Serri, ranked number one in the country in doubles and number thirty in singles, and Temin, a cute kid and rhythmic dancer, will help rejuvenate the juices of an aging and tired team. Other virgin fleshed gladiators include juniors Jell Breay, Isaac Fine, and Brain Korn, and sophomores Adam Gerson and Ben Tishler.

"We have a long and curvy path ahead of us," Coach Phil Goldberg said. "But in the immortal words of James T. Kirk, 'Warp speed ahead.'"

WOMEN'S TENNIS

↓ Senior Amy Stengel

With exceptional physical and mental preparation going into each match, the women's tennis team has potential to be successful in the Bay State League.

"I want us to be prepared the best possible for every match. If so, wins will come," said Coach Jan Perkins.

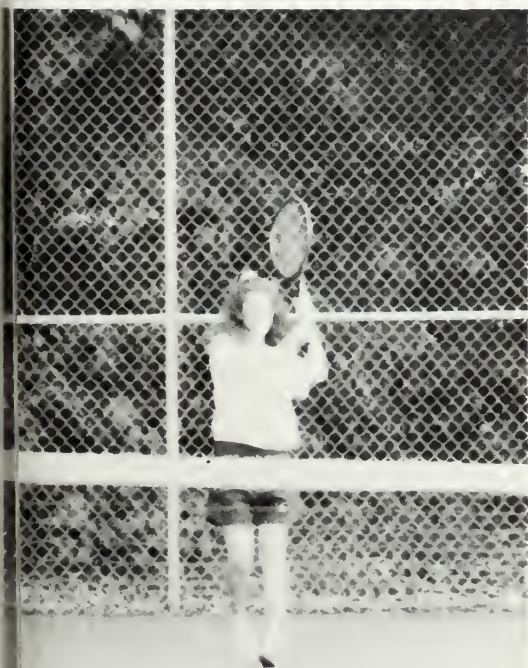

Perkins said she did not have specific goals in terms of tournaments and season records, instead she hopes to focus the team on intense training for better play.

Tying Natick for third place in the BSL in the 1992 season, this year's Tigers hope to defeat their top competitors; Framingham, Brookline and Natick. If the team can win 59% of their matches or place first or second in the BSL they are able to qualify for the state tournament.

Though the team lost two skilled double players last June, the singles players will not change this year. Junior Laura Kochansky will play first singles with senior Mara Liberman at second and sophomore Leslie Adelson at third. Seniors Deb Grossman and Amy Stengel as well as sophomores Rebecca Epstein and Audrey Cedrone are some of the returning doubles players, though there is no definite placement yet.

In past years the Tigers have shown a remarkable dedication to the sport and this integrity will again prove to be a significant factor in the teams success, according to Stengel.

"What I have noticed about our team in the last few years is that every player is determined to improve individually and this helps the team as a whole. More so than other sports, everyone loves the game and wants to win," she said.

MEN'S TRACK

The 1993 men's outdoor track team expects to have a memorable season this year. Losing key runners combined with the strength of other teams will make the season a difficult one for the Tigers, but they are optimistic. "The other teams in the league tend to have stronger outdoor teams while we have a weaker one," explains senior co-captain Mike Dedekian, "we lack the most in field events". Junior Deon Depisa and senior co-captain Jake Moerschel will lead the field events.

The tigers do have some strong runners returning who will help develop the rest of the team. Some of the teams best are junior Yuval Bar-Ilan in the 400 and 800, junior Ben Worthen in the two mile, Moerschel in the hurdles and high jump, junior Mike Uttaro in the sprinting events and Dedekian in the mile.

"In the past few years the outdoor teams have been close ones." says Coach Jim Blackburn, "The strong leadership of Jake and Mike should keep it together."

Explaining a goal for the season Moerschel said "I'm looking forward to helping the team win by placing in more than one event. It should be a great season."

After a successful indoor track season, the women's outdoor track team has a lot to look forward to. The numbers of runners, jumpers, throwers and sprinters were, as usual, enormous, providing the team with superb depth.

Key seniors are indoor league all-stars Jenny Martin and Maxine Inniss; distance runners Jane Saczynski, Katie Reppert, Molly Smith, Parastou Sodagar and Martha Quebec; hurdlers Beth Freitas, Laura Greenberg and Michele McMillen; jumpers Alli Storer, Sarah Falkoff and McMillen; and javelin thrower Caitlin Feeney.

The season gets off to a competitive start with the Tigers running first against Natick, than against Norwood. Each of these teams were tough competition in both the indoor and outdoor seasons.

"We lost to Milton last year," said indoor co-captain Michele McMillen, "so one of our main goals going into this season is to beat them in the league meet, and to have an undefeated season. We also hope to win the league title, and the State Relays."

Although a few key runners graduated last year, this year's team has a lot of dedication, team spirit, and motivation.

↑ Senior Caitlin Feeney

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Seniors Owen Franklin and Paul Schmidt

The 1993 Men's Volleyball team had its work cut out for them, but confidence was high at the beginning of the season. "After losing John Crockett, everyone expects us to be terrible this season," Senior John Feldman said during pre-season, "but we have a talented team, and we hope to return to the tournament."

In 1992, the Tigers made it to the tournament, and faced Wellesley in the first round after splitting two matches with them during the regular season. In an exciting three-game sweep, Wellesley fell, and Newton North went on to face defending state champs, New Bedford. Unfortunately, that match was scheduled for the day after the Senior Prom. After taking the first game, the Tigers lost the next three, and were bumped out of the tournament in the quarter-finals.

This year's seniors include Feldman, Matt Nishibori, Owen Franklin, Paul Schmidt, Jonathan Pape, Michael Shonkoff, and Jack Chang. Junior Sam Rosenthal, potentially the strongest all around player for 1993, was sidelined for the season with a broken leg. "Sammy is a big loss, but we should be able to fill the gaps. We have an experienced team with a lot of people that have been playing for three or four years," Coach Richard Barton reports, "there is a lot of talent among the Juniors and Seniors and we will field a very competitive team."

The toughest matches are expected to be against Brookline, Braintree, and Wellesley. The Tigers must take one match from one of these three teams to make the tournament.

"CUSTOM TEAM JACKETS"

But the wild things cried,
 "Oh please don't go-
 We'll eat you up - we love you so!"
 And Max said, "No!"
 The wild things roared their terrible roars
 And gnashed their terrible teeth
 And rolled their terrible eyes
 And showed their terrible claws
 But Max stepped into his private boat and Waved good-bye
 And sailed back over a year
 And in and out of weeks
 And through a day
 And into the night of his very own room
 Where he found his supper waiting for him
 And it was still hot.

With love from your family.

Good luck to the class of '93,
especially Betsy
and her friends.

"Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs, even though checkered by failure, than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they live in the gray twilight that knows not victory nor defeat."

-Theodore Roosevelt

"You must have been a beautiful baby"

In case you were wondering how I looked as a baby! Here I am! I'm still smiling today! I want to say hi and I love you to my Mom and siblings, Jackie, Danielle and David. Thanks Mom, for putting up with my sorry butt! Then I have to say hi to Mary Mac. because she put me in her blurb and I didn't put her name in mine. Good-looking out to my girl Shirley and Maxine, my ace, boon, coons. To my Metco Senior Sisters, You go girls. Peace out to Ronnie Bynoe! Peace to Metco, Mrs. Byers and Mrs. Diggs, I'll miss U. To all you suckas who messed with me all my life, act like ya know! Oh yeah, almost forgot. Thank you Wanda for buying this page and not backing out!

I want to say hi to all the seniors, and would like to wish them the best of luck after Newton North. Before I forget I'll say hi to Missy because I didn't in my blurb. Bye everyone! I'll miss you!

Election 1992

The 1992 presidential campaign was, if nothing else, a year of surprises. February saw Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton's (D) campaign barely intact after various tabloid scandals and a disappointing second place finish to former Massachusetts Senator Paul Tsongas in the New Hampshire primary. That same primary saw incumbent President George Bush beat fellow Republican Pat Buchanan by an embarrassingly small margin.

By the time spring rolled around, many things had changed. Clinton had staved off Tsongas and former California Governor Jerry Brown to assure himself of the Democratic nomination. Meanwhile, Bush had mustered his forces enough to resume control of his party. Texas billionaire Ross Perot also unofficially threw his hat in the ring.

The summer's party conventions were each pivotal in their own way. The Democratic convention at New York's Madison Square Garden provided the country with a glimpse of party unity not seen since Jimmy Carter of Georgia defeated President Gerald Ford. What the Republican convention in the Houston Astrodome accomplished was quite different. Many Americans were turned off by the showcase of right wing speeches.

As always, the media played a huge role in the course that the election took. The biggest catch phrase of the election was "Change." Perot hawked his wares of the popular mandate, while Clinton tried to convince America that he was the true candidate of change. When Perot dropped out and reentered the race, analysts spoke of the "Change vote." President Bush tried to downplay the importance of change throughout the campaign, and to convince the country that it was already headed for a recovery from its recession.

In the end, however, the change concept won out. Clinton defeated Bush and Perot by a wide margin in the Electoral College (although without a popular majority, due to the presence of three candidates rather than two), and became the forty-second President of the United States.
